

The Ultimate Mission

By S. Ghoman

Once upon a time on a far far away planet there was a Superhero. His name was The Ultimate Panther. He lived on a planet called Blackout. Everyone on Planet Blackout was an animal, there were all sorts of animals on Planet Blackout. Tigers, Panthers, Lions, and a bunch of other animals you might not have heard of before. One day on Planet Blackout the Ultimate Panther realized he had a mission to go on. The problem is it was on a different planet, this planet was called The Evil Planet. He had no directions on where this planet was. He asked his friend for help. His friend Stripes the Tiger said he would help him.

Stripes said he had a space craft that could take them to Planet Evil. The space craft was hidden in an underground compartment, it was brand new and it had never been used. Stripes and Panther walked into the spacecraft for the very first time. Stripes got in the drivers seat and told Panther to hang on! Then they took off.

On the journey to Planet Evil they both disguised themselves to look like the bad guys and not like superhero animals. They reach Planet Evil and it is totally different from their planet. The sky is dark and everyone wears suits with their Masters picture on it. Soon they spot the Evil Masters lair, they sneak inside. They notice the space inside is really big and soon find some large doors which open to the Evil Master himself!

The Evil Master smiles "Greetings". Stripes replies "We need the key to your city" The Evil Master seems surprised. He never realized anyone would WANT the key to HIS CITY. The Evil Master asks “but why would you want the key to my city?” Panther replies “We need it to destroy this Evil Planet.” Shocked the Evil Master replies “NO! We are not evil, we are sad that no one ever wants us to visit their planet just because they THINK we are evil.”

Suddenly Panther realizes that Evil Planet people were not in fact evil but really sad and misunderstood. Instead of destroying the Evil Planet he had to figure out how to make the Planet Happy. He knew just how to do this. Right where they were standing there was a magnet which when placed in the middle of the city would recharge the planet, like a burst of energy. It was almost like having an hour long nap but instead of taking an hour it was instant.

Panther and Stripes carried out the new plan and the recharge happened exactly how they wanted it to happen. When the planet turned into Happy Planet everyone suddenly looked different. When it was named Evil it looked all dark and gloomy but now everyone smiled and it looked brighter. And at first everyone looked like the Blackout Planet animals BUT they were not exactly the same, they were humans who always smiled and wore t-shirts and shorts. So Evil Planet became Happy Planet and invitations were sent out welcoming them to Blackout for a party.

So if you think people are evil just try and figure it out and have a party because everyone might just be misunderstood.

Mission Complete, THE END!
