

My Halloween
By Maija Roberts

Last night I went trick or treating. There was this house that had eerie lights coming from inside. "Whoa," I said, "awesome house!" I knocked on the door and a woman appeared, dressed as a witch. I said, "Trick or treat," and she said, "Come inside, I have a big selection you can choose from." So I followed her to a room with a big bowl of candy. I ate one, and then fell unconscious. When I awoke, I saw the top of a cage. I screamed, and that's when I woke up and realized it was just a dream.
