

The Mystery of the Missing Hedgehog

There was a wonderful woman named Miss Chrissy, and she had an antique, wooden hedgehog. One day while dusting she noticed her hedgehog was missing. She called Detective Jerry and his Assistant Bob, who hurried over. They searched the house claiming that they didn't see it anywhere. Saying, "this was truly a mystery." Before they left Bob noticed something sticking out of the Detective's pocket it looked like a hedgehog. Reaching into Jerry's pocket, pulled it out, it looked like the antique. So Bob gave it back and Jerry was found guilty of robbery. So Bob became Chief Detective!!
